A touching, clever, dreamlike sit-fi tinged family drama. In the near future a family reckons with questions of love and loss after their android helper breaks down.

An American filmmaking couple escape to the Baltic isle where Ingmar Bergman lived and died, each working on respective screenplays. As their summer and their scripts advance, the line between reality and fiction blurs. In English, French and Swedish.

The spectacular and surprisingly unorthodox biography of Carbon, the most misunderstood element on Earth. Narrated by Craig Venter, this documentary explores the fascinating story of the discovery of carbon, from its ancient origins to its role in modern science.

A brilliant young fund manager leaves her unfulfilling job and long-term boyfriend to chase her lifelong dream of becoming an opera singer in the Scottish Highlands under the tutelage of the Mad Diva. This movie is a must-see for anyone interested in the world of opera.

In this impressionist and sensual adaptation of the novel by Graham Swift, a misunderstanding told in three movements, between three characters, turns a small rural town upside down and exposes the terrible reality of the situation.

When John, a thirty-five-year-old window cleaner, is given only a few months to live, he attempts to find a new, perfect family for his three-year-old son, determined to shield him from the terrible reality of the situation.
